CALOLS DEFEAT
ZEROLENES IN
ESSO LEAGUE

The Calols emerged on the top of the heap in their game with the Zerolenes in the Standard Oil league last night, the Calols men winning by the close score of 2 to 1.

Both teams played fairly good ball, with three errors being charged up for each club. Carter and White tied for batting honors for the winners, putting two for three while Bonham got one bingle in the second inning. Strader smashed out a double and went to third on Baldwin's error. Carter's single scored him.

The Zerolenes came right back in their half of the second to score the tying run. Baldwin smashed out a fly which Callers pressed to allow Baldwin to reach first. Then, after Fittoli had sacrificed and Beckson had fouled out, Salmon hit to score his team-mate.

From then on the two teams played air-tight baseball. Going into the seventh inning, the score still stood one-al. Carter was the first man up for the Calols, flying out to Baldwin. Bonham singled and went to second, on Carson's error and took third on Williams' error and scored on Callers' single.

Despite a valiant attempt in the last of the seventh inning, the Zerolenes were unable to score. Here is the boxscore:

Golden Bears Win By Margin Of Second

(Continued From Page 1) Set by sea, the Calols, who were fourth place, Syracuse was fifth, and Washington, Penn., was sixth. Columbia, on exacting grounds, led with a lead which had delayed to a scant deck length ahead of the Calols and the Columbia crew was only a few feet ahead.

NO RECORD
The time was 15 1-5 seconds back of the course record, made under rowing conditions which were perfectly flat, ideal insofar as no adverse conditions were encountered, but with no favoring wind to speed the oarsmen on their way.

Washington, true to prophesy, carried off the freshman and junior varsity races. Coach A. L. Erickson's rising generation took the freshman two mile rush by three lengths in the time of 10:20 with California second at 10:41 2-5; Navy third, Columbia fourth and Syracuse fifth.

JUNIOR RACES
Washington led by two lengths at the finish of the three mile junior varsity races, clocked in 14:58 4-5, with Navy second in 15:01 1-5. Cornell was third and Syracuse fourth in one of the smallest flotillas to start here in recent years.

The Washington varsity, stroked by John York, a sophomore, was a lowly second boat freshman when Washington's freshman varsity classed here last June, was a disappointment to the experts and its own crew.

HESKIES LED
The Heskies were second away from the stake boats behind Navy, and in the first half mile they headed the procession, with Syracuse also jumping out in front of Strader, California and Cornell were neck and neck, a deck length behind Bonham, with Penn sixth and Columbia last.

At the mile mark Washington held its half-length lead, but by this time Cornell's smoothly rowing eight had usurped second place. At this stage of the game Penn was also fighting gamely to bear out its promise and in the paddling California was trailing Bartoli, in sixth place, but the golden Bears were rowing the lowest boat on the river, a leisurely 21, and Salmon, the Bears' stroke, seemed in no hurry to make California's bid.

BEARS TURN ON POWER
Then with a surge as the fleet swept down the second mile, California turned on the power and the shell glided past the opposition as if towed by a porpoise.

PECULIAR THEFT
STOCKTON, June 18.—Theft of a bear gas gun and two shells was reported to police today by the California Packing Corporation.

STAR ATHLETE
DECLARED OUT
TRACK MEET

BERKELEY, June 18.—Ed O'Brien, Syracuse quarter miler, who defeated the country's leading men in the I. C. A. meet at Boston, today was a doubtful starter in the National Collegiate meet Friday and Saturday, following word he might be unable to finance the trip.

Glenn Hardin, blonde Louisiana defending champion in both the 220 low hurdles and the quarter, said the Syracuse star told him he would not be able to compete here unless additional transportation expenses were allotted to him.

Hardin, one of O'Brien's victims in the Princeton Invitational meet expressed deep disappointment that he would be unable to meet his rival again this season. The raney southerner, who has run the quarter in 46.8 seconds and holds the world record in the 440 hurdles, will be a favorite in the one-day dash if O'Brien does not enter.

With O'Brien out, the race for the tape will be between Hardin, Jimmy LaValle of the University of California at Los Angeles, and Johnny McCarthy of the University of Southern California.

A break for Jesse Owens, Ohio State miler sprinter, and other dash men planning to enter more than one event was announced today as game officials said arrangements were being made to arrange heats in such a fashion that each runner would be required to run but one race in each event before the final.

If arrangements are completed for the one-day plan, Owens is expected to enter four events—both dashes, 220 yard low hurdles and broad jump.

Prominent athletes who accompanied Hardin on his flight from the Princeton Invitational meet Saturday included Bill Patterson, Columbia half miler, Harry Williamson, North Carolina 880 man and Sam Allen, Oklahoma Baptist high hurdler.

Patterson, winner of second place in the "Big Seven" meet, will be among favorites in the two-lap race here. Allen, with a mark of 11.3 in the high hurdles, also is a definite threat for first place points. Williamson has run the half in 1:55.9.

SEALS DEFEAT
PORTLAND; OAKS
ARE DEFEATED

(By United Press)

San Francisco Seals, gunning for an early lead in the second half of the Coast League season, got off to a flying start in the last half play Tuesday night as they downed Portland, 7 to 5, in the first game of the new seven-day series.

Joe DiMaggio, young Seal's outfielder, who has lifted out home runs in recent games, added two more to his record as he circled the bases in the fifth and ninth innings. DiMaggio, slowly cutting down the lead of Jim Lillard, Los Angeles, for league home run honors, now has 19 as compared to Lillard's 24.

San Diego and Ed Stutz combined to hold the Beavers to seven hits while the Seals hit 14 times against Chandler and Bryan of Portland.

The Missions, cellar team of the first half, started the new schedule in convincing style in triumphing the Acorns, former league leaders, 9 to 5.

Gabby Street's Reds ganged up on Tobin, McDonald and Rezo to bat out 13 safeties. Johnson of the Missions yielded but nine hits.

In the third night game, Los Angeles lost to Seattle by a score of 12 to 6.

Hollywood and Sacramento did not play as they were traveling. San Francisco won 7 to 6, Portland 5 to 7.

Gibson, Stutz and Woodall, Chandler, Bryan and Cronin.

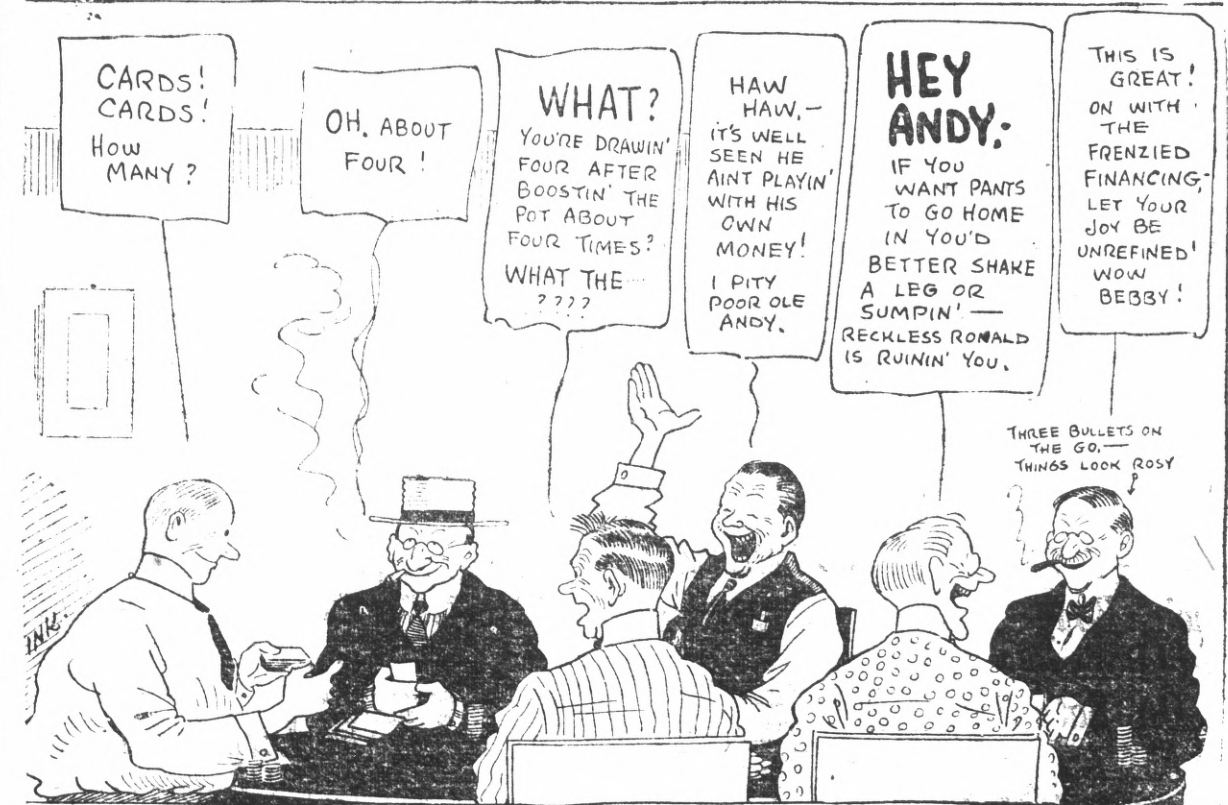

Oakland Missions 9 to 1, Tobin, McDonald, Rezo and Kies; Johnson and Cullen.

Los Angeles 6 to 11, Seattle 12 to 8.

Garland, Gabler, Donovan and Gobel; Barrett and Bottarini.

AAA REVISED BY CONGRESS TO MEET LAW

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(UP)—With the shadow of the Supreme Court's decision outlawing NRA long and broad across Congress, the House today hastily revised the agricultural adjustment act in an attempt to make it legal to the last letter of the law.

A series of amendments to the AAA were passed and sent to the Senate, and another of President Roosevelt's pieces of "must" legislation was scratched off the House calendar.

PASS AMENDMENTS

The amendments passed by a standing vote of 168 to 52.

The principal thing these amendments will do, if approved by the Senate, will be to strike down the price fixing features of AAA. The only commodity that will escape is milk. A minimum price to milk producers will remain in effect.

Republicans made half hearted attacks on the whole theory of AAA—the collecting of processing taxes in order to get money to pay the farmers for reducing acreage.

BOURBONS RALLY

But when the Republicans attempted to turn this oratory into action by offering amendments, Chairman Marvin Jones of the House Agriculture Committee rallied his Democrats and smothered the opposition.

One of the things that led the Supreme Court to rule against NRA was that Congress handed over broad powers to the President without specifying how they should be used. The House tried to correct that flaw in the AAA bill today by giving specific directions to Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace as to how he should proceed in bringing farm prices up to the 1909-1914 level.

CONTINUE TAXES

Processing taxes would be continued under these amendments, and the original structure of the AAA is not changed on the payments of benefits, but the House did look forward to the possibility that the courts might rule some day that AAA had stepped across constitutional bounds. A provision was included that in event the AAA is declared unconstitutional processors shall not be allowed to go into court and sue the government for taxes already collected. So far the government has taken about $30,000,000 away from processors, men who prepare the raw materials of farm for the market and passed most of it along to the farmers.

Many marketing agreements would be thrown out under these amendments, but it was voted to retain such agreements on vegetables, fruits (except apples) and tobacco.

Attorney Claims Disbarment Plea Venom-Inspired

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—(UP)—Charges on which the State Bar Association is seeking to disbar Edmon E. Herscher, San Francisco attorney and husband of the former Mrs. Charles Howard, divorced wife of the automobile magnate, were presented to the State Supreme Court today.

Joseph C. Sharp argued the case for the bar association. He asserted that Herscher took advantage of his relationship with his client, James Pelly, former New York business executive, to make $1000 on purchases of furniture, to get a $20,000 fee for handling a customs case and allegedly to charge Mrs. Pelly a $50,000 fee.

John L. McNab, representing Herscher, attributed the charges to "personal hate and venom," alleging wire tapping and photographs had been employed against the attorney following his marriage to Howard's divorced wife.

Bridge Washed Away In Flood; One Is Drowned

ASTORIA, N. M., June 18.—(UP)—A bridge was washed out and two severely injured when floods caused by melting snows washed out a Denver & Rio Grande Western railroad bridge over the Las Animas river at Cedar Hill, near here, late today.

A large tree swept down by the torrent crashed into the bridge while the crew was engaged in tearing out debris around the piers and swept the structure into the raging river.

Fight For Retention Of Private Pensions

WASHINGTON, June 18.—(UP)—A firm little group of conservative Democrats, fighting to preserve private pension systems under the social security bill, forced party leaders to delay a final vote on the measure in the Senate for 24 hours.

The uprising occurred over an amendment by Senator B. Clark, Democrat, Mo., which would exempt employers who are already providing retiring benefits to their workers from the provisions of the Pension Act. His proposal drew strong support from Senators Millard Tydings, Democrat, Md.; William H. King, Democrat, Utah; and Senator Huey P. Long, Democrat, La.

Farmers Aided By Commission

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—(UP)—The State Railroad Commission today in effect allied itself with upper Sacramento Valley farmers in their $87,000 damage action against the Mt. Shasta Power corporation.

Farmers alleged water was diverted from their Patville irrigation pool by the Pacific Gas & Electric company subsidiary, damaging their land holdings.

They now want monetary damages rather than return of the water.

The commission sympathized with this latter view and refused the company's petition for permission to abandon partially its $10,000,000 Fall River power plant by returning a portion of the water used there.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY GO ROUND

WASHINGTON, June 18.—There is a card index file in the NRA which tells a significant story. It is the record of firms which have lined up to NRA codes and the week.

The story should not be a surprising one because it bears out what is known regarding business sentiment toward the NRA.

And it explains why there was so much opposition from individualists and champions of individual rights in the Senate.

For the story is that big firms in general are living up to the NRA codes, while little business is not.

The file shows resolution after resolution by trade associations, pledging NRA adherence. Include the Iron and Steel Institute, Standard Oil Company of New York, Consolidated Oil, American Petroleum Institute, General Foods, T. W. Eaton, International Business Machines, American Cyanamid, Copper Institute, Oliver Farm Equipment Company, West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company, Chevrolet Motors, American Asphalt and Roofing, Pullman Company, and the Appalachian Coal Company.

Seems Roebuck, reported that he "planned no reductions in wages or increase in hours."

The Edison Electric Institute, representing 75 per cent of the industry, urged electric companies to maintain standards of wages and hours.

The Association of Cotton Textile Merchants of New York, representing 95 per cent of member business, determined to continue a 45-hour five-day week and present

Waltz has closed, but it will reopen at the Center Theater in August. . . . The last week grossed some $31,000 and they decided there were still eggs in the golden goose.

Who remembers Jim Thorpe, the greatest all-around athlete of all times? . . . He has just signed up for a role in a new film spectacle.

Hollywood's hard on the youngsters, but it's a haven for many of the otherwise forgotten heroes.

NOT SURE—Amelia Earhart, fresh from her record flight from Mexico, stepped into a bookstore the other afternoon to buy a copy of a work called "The Conquest of Mexico."

The young saleslady was very polite to her unrecognized customer, and helpfully suggested that she also take along a copy of a Spanish grammar especially written for tourists planning to visit Mexico.

Miss Earhart kept her sense of humor. Spanish was so simple, she said, that one could understand almost everything people said, as it sounded much like the English words. In Mexico the natives called her "Ayatollah."

"My husband shortened this to 'Dora,'" smiled Miss Earhart as she turned to go, "and finally ended up by calling me 'Dumb Dora'."

The saleslady is still wondering about that crack.

LAY ON, MACDUFF! It looks as if a shake-up is going to mean the end of all available theaters on the Alameda, come next Fall. To begin with the latest announcement, Leslie Howard is going to play "Hallelujah" under his own management.

Howard has previously notified that he's bored with the ways of the commercial theater and wants to give it a change. Once before he threatened to play the Melodically Dane, but Raymond Messey sneaked in before he could get started.

Now John Gielgud, the European star, has announced that he'll bring a Hamlet company over next season for the education of American audiences. Howard has decided to beat him to it before he grows too old, and the race should be exciting to watch.

In addition to these two, Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontaine will turn up with "The Taming of the Shrew," already tested on the road and proclaimed a rip snorter. Phillip Mercivale and Gladys Cooper, chief protagonists in the Crosby Gage Chase Spanish repertory theater, will also be on hand with "Othello" and "Macbeth."

Finally, there's a rumor that John Barrymore will revive his own famous production of "Hamlet."

The shake-up will be terrible before all this is over.

Clue To Fortune Is Contained In Lost Suitcase

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—(AP)—A mysterious missing suitcase was claimed in a court action today to hold the secret to a $1,200,000 estate.

Marion H. Kohn, described as a Hollywood motion picture producer, said he turned the suitcase over to Edward Rothchild. It contained, he declared, family correspondence of the late George A. Kohn, San Francisco capitalist.

"It's worth $5,000 to me," Kohn said.

Defendants, in addition to Rothchild, included Attorneys S. M. Ehrman, Jerome B. White, Florence M. McAniff, Lloyd Dinkelspiel, Matt L. Sullivan and Theodore J. Roche.

Now John Gielgud, the European star, has announced that he'll bring a Hamlet company over next season for the education of American audiences. Howard has decided to beat him to it before he grows too old, and the race should be exciting to watch.

Paroles Given C. C. Offenders

Paroles have been granted by the State prison board to Robert H. Kirk, 35, convicted in this county of manslaughter, and Manuel De Costa, 29, who was sent to prison for a 25 year term on a robbery charge.

Kirk was arrested November 30, 1931 for slaying William Vincent at Bremwood because of Vincent's asserted intention to kill Kirk's wife. Kirk pleaded self defense and the "unwritten law" also was used by his attorneys. The jury found him guilty of manslaughter February 9, 1932.

De Costa was charged with robbing Roy Voorhees of $2 and Melvin Sjoberg of $3.50 on March 6, 1927. He and Manuel Duarte were "petting party" bandits. In the robbery Duarte accidentally shot and killed Frank Allen, another bandit. Duarte was convicted of murder. The robbery and murder occurred on the Orinda dam road.

HOLLYWOOD, June 18.—(UP)—Whereas most screen homes there is a bar, Joe L. Brown has a swimming pool in his Beverly Hills residence.

The fountain is the center of interest in a combination sun and play room. Obviously, it's for the Brown children, but "I never yet have had all the ice cream I wanted," admitted Joe with a sheepish grin.

"A soda fountain has been suppressed since I was 7."

Dick Powell has a trick, built-in bed he helped design. Without lifting his head off the pillow, he can turn on a radio hidden in the bed's head. Secret compartments hold the telephone and compass.

All button panel from which he can summon servants from all over the house. A miniature library is hidden in another panel. A magazine rack occupies a nook. A concealed light switch turns on lights throughout the house and once it is turned on, no room switch can turn them off.

The hiltop home of Joan Blondell and George Barnes is being remodeled with a basement in which is being installed a complete miniature electrified railroad, bridges, cars and hills—long before little Norman Scott Barnes is old enough to enjoy it.

A triple treat program opens at the Fox theater today with the screening of the Baer-Braddock championship fight pictures, and two features headed by Wheeler and Woolsey in "The Nit-Wits" plus Marlene Dietrich in "The Devil is a Woman."

The Baer-Braddock fight pictures are the authentic and complete record of their heavyweight fight in which Braddock became the new champion.

In "The Nit-Wits" Wheeler and Woolsey are seen as a pair of cigar store cowboys. In their spare time they decide to become inventors and evolve a "truth-detecting machine" and promptly decide that they will turn sleuths. So we find "Sherlock" Wheeler and "Watson" Woolsey annoying the police as they innocently get tangled up in a thrill murder mystery.

Thrills pile up on thrills and laughs follow laughs as the boys roll in and out of funny jams and mysterious happenings. Romance and song also have their place in the picture. Betty Grable causes Wheeler to run around in circles while Woolsey finds himself an elderly gold-digger, so he is made happy and all ends well.

Miss Dietrich in "The Devil is a Woman" portrays a heartless street whores kiss brings ruin to the men who love her. The Spanish character plays one man against the other until, after a wild and colorful native carnival, two of them meet on the field of honor. Prominent in the supporting cast are Lionel Atwill, Edward Everett Horton, Alphonse Sklar and Cesar Romero, Joseph von Sternberg directed.

YOUR HEALTH

Humans Can Go Along With Diseased Organs If Not Overworked

By CLAUD NORTH CHRISMAN, M.D.

WE TALK a great deal about good and bad health. I suspect that our ideas about what constitutes good health vary a great deal, according to our point of view. There are many variations in both good and bad health. Many of us, no doubt, think that to be strong and active, to go on day after day without pain or discomfort, to be able to do anything that any other person can do and to do it without being tired or feeling bad afterwards constitutes good health.

Profiles For Today

Frank Gillmore, Fathers Broadway

By TALBOT LAKE

FROM time immemorial actors have been considered by their audiences as people separate from the usual human being—as entertainers who are not to be judged by the usual rules of conduct. They work at night and sleep late in the morning. According to the general opinion they're all a little bit goofy. Therefore, it is something of a shock to find the actors up in arms at the plan to give plays on Sunday in New York City. They declare the day of rest applies to them just as much as it does to the workman who manures the boulevard.

Kinkin in the argument is Frank Gillmore, president of the Actors' Equity Association, which is the equivalent of an actors' union. Mr. Gillmore, in his years of service with the organization, has given it something of a parental background. From stars to tiny chorus girls, Actors' Equity is a protecting arm, and Gillmore is the chief exponent of this kind of service.

His rule is somewhat in the nature of a regency, for the association, and Gillmore has considerable influence on this board. Recently members voted on the Sunday show plan and so far as could be determined the vote was a tie, but something was mentioned to the effect that actors might be willing to work on Sundays if the managers would pay double salaries for the day. This idea, while unsponsored, is thought to have emanated from Gillmore.

Actually, the Equity head appears more like a Chautauqua official than a father to Broadway. His benign attitude covers a lot of real fire, which producers have discovered of yore, and seem likely to feel once again. He helped to organize Equity, and has seen it through its darkest, as well as its brightest, days.

He attended the committee meetings in 1913 when Equity was first discussed, and became executive secretary in 1918. During the following year he directed the famous actors' strike, and since then he has been a successful chip on his shoulder where managers are concerned.

Rival to Peanut
Peanut butter has long been a favorite. Now a cashew nut spread is being introduced that promises to give peanut butter some keen competition for popularity in the nut-butter field.

Too Much Feed
The same amount of food was given them on the idle days as on work days and two successive days of rest and over feeding was more than they could endure.

A man with one kidney and only one lung can do a certain limited amount of work and live a long life in comfort. Were they called upon to do hard manual labor or be exposed to storm and wet, they would soon suffer seriously and perhaps die.

The secretion of a little too much hydrochloric acid in the stomach may cause acute distress. You may have good lungs, heart, liver, stomach and eyes and enjoy fine health, but a little blood vessel in the brain can have a thin spot which may break and cause paralysis or death. A little uncorrected eye trouble may cause severe suffering.

Health is a relative term and nature has made many provisions for our successful existence. A heart may be seriously damaged, but rest and care will restore that heart to good work if it is not called upon to do too much.

More than two thousand years ago Herophilus of Alexandria wrote: "To lose one's health renders science null, art inglorious, strength effortless, wealth useless and eloquence powerless." Surely very true, but Thucydides taught us much that we know about the cure of tuberculosis after he became helpless from the disease. One man claims that he never truly began to see until quite suddenly and without warning he lost his eyesight.

Erasing Cocoa Stains
For removing chocolate and cocoa stains, use borax and cold water. If necessary add a little bleach to this solution.

Afternoon Is Best Time For the Bath

By JACQUELINE HUNT

DOES your schedule of household tasks and meals allow time for a leisurely bath in the afternoon? If it doesn't, then it should be revised to do so. Women—especially housewives—often feel that bathing daily isn't necessary as long as they manage to keep necks and elbows clean.

Baths are restful, inspiring. A leisurely soaking in a warm bath will ease tired, sore muscles and refresh your spirit, especially if the water is perfumed with bath salts or oils or pine crystals. For quicker baths there are perfumed soap granules with other cleansing ingredients that soften your water and purify the pores.

Most important of all, baths keep you free from offending odors and check excessive perspiration. In some cases it may be necessary to use a deodorant or anti-perspirant. Really, it is rather difficult to get through a long, hot summer without one.

Use a mouthwash, too. Mouthwash not only cleanses the mouth, but removes particles of food lodged between the teeth and helps prevent tooth decay.

After your leisurely bath and your use of a deodorizing agent, dust your skin with your favorite bath powder, or if you spend a great deal of time out of doors or at the beach, rub your skin thoroughly with an after-bathing oil to prevent excessive dryness.

When you are dressed as attractively as possible for the afternoon or evening, how about a few drops of perfume? Most women invest in a precious vial of their favorite fragrance and then tuck it away for parties or some special occasion, and first thing they know the perfume spilled or evaporated before they have used it more than a few times.

Use your perfume when you are alone and see how refreshed and uplifted you feel. Use it for your family and see how pleased they are. Children love a mother that "smells nice" and even though your husband seldom makes compliments, he will be thrilled to know that you are as sweet and dainty as when he was courting you.

A time-table of beauty events for brides who just to be glamorous is contained in the leaflet, "Beauty For Spring Brides." Just send a stamped self-addressed envelope if you would like a copy.

Acid Eats Enamel
Did you know that acid eats enamel, discoloring it or leaving a rough surface? Lemon will disfigure enamel. For this reason, lemonade glasses should be washed at once instead of being allowed to stand around or an enamel surface.

Beauty Tips

QUESTION: "I have extremely oily hair and a bad case of dandruff. I bought some kind of a pine tar shampoo one time that seemed to improve my hair considerably. I cannot afford to buy this preparation regularly, however, and I wonder if you can tell me how to make such a shampoo at home—Mabel."

You can make an excellent tar shampoo preparation at home. This is antiseptic and cleansing and will improve the condition of your scalp. You can buy the ingredients at any drugstore. Mix four ounces tincture of green soap, one-half ounce bay rum, one ounce of tar oil. Use warm olive oil on your scalp before your shampoo to loosen the dandruff. Use three or four applications of the shampoo and then rinse your hair with hot water. Add a little vinegar or lemon juice to the last rinse water to cut away all of the oil. If you will send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, I will be glad to send you my leaflet on "Beautiful Hair" which contains further instructions.

QUESTION: "Can you tell me how to apply eye-shadow? I have never used it before, but I am going to a very special formal party and I would like to try it." —Bobby.

If you have never applied eye-shadow before, I think you might have best luck with a blue or gray powder shadow. Smooth just a wee hint of cold cream or petroleum jelly on your lids, and then use a very little of the powder on a clean piece of cotton and smooth on your closed lid. Have most of the shadow near your lashes and blend it softly toward the downward tilt of your eyebrows. If you get too much shadow on the first time, remove the excess with a fresh piece of cotton.

Modes and Manners
QUESTION: "How should a finger bowl be used?" —Kate.

ANSWER: Dip the ends of the fingers into the water. The tips may be touched with these. Then mouth and hands are wiped daintily upon the napkin. The finger bowl is served after the dessert course and placed to the right of the guest.

Ready Meat Products Aid Home-Maker

By JUDITH WILSON

THE housewife who wants to serve attractive meals with a minimum of effort during the hot months of summer will do well to consider the many varieties of prepared meat products like ham bologna, veal loaf, pork loaf, liver loaf, boiled tongue, minced roll, headcheese, frankfurters, liver sausage and other sausages of many kinds.

Not only are these ready-cooked sausages, rolls and loaves delicious when sliced and served cold with potato salad and sliced tomatoes, but you can use them in many kinds of quickly and easily prepared cooked dishes. Here are a few suggestions:

Ham Cornopias
Arrange six well shaped slices of boiled or baked cold ham on a platter. Make six cornopias from other ham slices, rolling and fastening the edges with toothpicks. Fill the cornopias with one and one-half cups well seasoned baked beans or with potato salad. Arrange on the platter with plain ham slices and garnish liberally with watercress and scalloped slices of cucumber.

LUNCHEONS OR SUPPERS
Creole Gumbo Soup
Italian Bread Sticks
Ham Cornopias with Baked Beans
Watercress-Cucumber Salad
Assorted Bread Butter
Hot Spice Cake and Foamy Egg Nog

Frankfurters and Hot Potato Salad
Twisted Rye Rolls
Cottage Cheese with Caraway Pickles
Dutch Prune Cake
Coffee or Beer

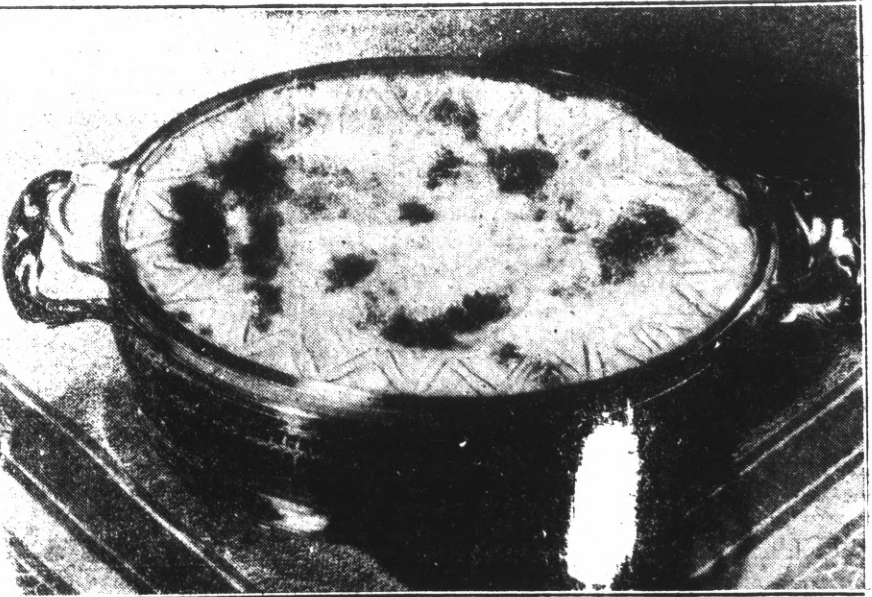

Hot Potato Salad
Hot potato salad with frankfurters en casserole makes the unusual main dish for a typically Dutch supper. Mix four cups thinly sliced, boiled potatoes, one-half cup salt, one-half cup vinegar, one-teaspoon minced parsley, one-fourth cup thinly sliced celery, one-half cup olive oil and one-fourth cup white vinegar. Mix well and pour into a shallow casserole. Over the top arrange one and one-half cups cooked green beans and on top of this lay six frankfurters that have been simmered for five minutes. Place in a moderate oven just long enough to heat the salad thoroughly.

Frankfurter Grill
Cut six frankfurters into thirds. Place eighteen squares of calves liver and eighteen rather thick squares of fat bacon. Arrange on skewers or sharp sticks, alternating the frankfurters, bacon, and calves liver. Roll the skewers in melted butter or bacon fat and grill until well browned and done. Serve with a peppery barbecue sauce. This is a grand picnic suggestion.

Gypsy Sandwiches
Cut very thin slices of bread, and veal loaf. Spread the bread with a soft, yellow cheese and cover with a thin slice of veal loaf. Roll as you would a jelly roll and fasten with a toothpick. Slip onion rings over each roll. Toast in a rather slow oven until the bread is lightly browned and the cheese melted.

They Contain Iron
Prunes, raisins, dates, dried beans, potatoes, whole cereals and bread all contain iron. The same goes for oysters when they are in season.

MACARONI EN CASSEROLE: Macaroni covered with Welsh Rarebit makes a dish which will tempt the most particular palate. It is especially inviting at this time of the year, when the main dish is all that is necessary to satisfy the appetite. The recipe is as follows: In salted boiling water, place one-half pound macaroni. Boil until tender (about twenty minutes). Drain and add two tablespoons of butter and one-half cup milk. Stir well. Place in three individual casseroles or one baking dish. On top, place Welsh Rarebit made with bottled beer. Bake in oven and serve very hot. Chopped bacon or ham may be added to the macaroni if desired.

A Question of Whether to Return a Ring That Didn't Mean Engagement

By MARIAN MAYS MARTIN

DEAR MRS. MARTIN: I have been going with a fellow and he has seemed to care very much for me, and has given me lovely gifts, one which is a ring, my birthstone and merely a friendship ring. Maybe I shouldn't have accepted it, if I didn't love him, but now since we are breaking up, should I return the ring, or what is best?

You should not have accepted the ring in the first place. Since you have, and since it has no significance, I would not return it. If you would rather do so, or the boy would rather have you return it, do so. The point is not to have any embarrassing discussion over it.

You and Your Child
Too Much Hugging Enslaves Child

By JANE HERBERT GOWARD

WALTER was quietly playing in a corner. In the next room his mother was preparing to go out for the afternoon. She sat before her vanity table brushing back her hair. She knew that it would do her good to get a way from the house for a few hours. She wanted to go. At the same time she could not ignore a little tugging inside at the thought of leaving her baby. Suppose he wanted her? Or needed her? Or missed her? She leaned over, powder puff in hand now, and watched the child from the doorway. How innocent of her going he was! He would miss her though. She knew that.

When mother had her hat and coat on and was ready to go out, she stood behind him and said, "Good bye, Walter." The child turned around, and seeing mother dressed for the street, a worried look crept into his eyes. Mother thought, "He doesn't want me to go." She picked him up and hugged him good-bye. "Mother's going out, darling," she whispered and kissed his ear. "Aunt Clara will take care of you. Now be a good boy."

Panic filled the boy and mother could not detach herself from him. She tried, but he clung to her the harder, crying to be taken along. Finally, mother did manage to disengage herself. She went to the door. Here she turned. His tear-stained face touched her, and again she came back to hug and kiss him. "If you're going, you'd better hurry," Aunt Clara prompted. Mother looked at her watch, and flew out of the house. She heard Walter's screams and thought, "He's so attached to me." Not without pride, however.

Parents are foolish to allow themselves to be flattered by clinging vine traits in their children. Such behavior is infantile. It is the direct outgrowth of excessive demonstration on the part of the parent. A less selfish attitude is to cut parting short after a dignified handshake, stroke of the hand or cool kiss.

For the homemaker who likes to do her own baking even when the temperature soars, there is a new quick-baking oven which bakes fast and economically while keeping the heat where it belongs—in the oven. The particular one we have in mind plugs in any socket; needs no preheating; it starts instantly. Also it is said to use no more current by the clock than your electric iron. It bakes biscuits in twelve minutes, and is fine for pies, potatoes, etc. It occupies a space of eleven and a half inches by ten inches and is six inches high.

Did you know that the chemical composition of brown and white eggs is the same? Freshness is the only factor to consider when purchasing eggs.

You can store garlic in the refrigerator and forget about it, as here will be not the slightest trace of odor, if it is kept in a tightly covered glass jar.

A new electric broom, weighs six pounds, is slim and trim, because made of chromium and ebony rubber with a red corduroy bag. It will clean covered or uncovered floors. It is ideal for cleaning under beds and under low-slung furniture.

Silver polish will remove egg stains from silver. But in place of silver polish, use a little table salt.

MOONEY NOT PLEASED WITH COURT RULING

SAN FRANCISCO, June 18.—UP—The State Supreme Court's decision, after 18 years, to grant Tom Mooney an alternative writ of habeas corpus deserves a personal appearance in court, the celebrated San Quentin prisoner protested today.

The writ is returnable June 27. Presence of the convicted San Francisco Preparedness Day bomber that day was waived by the tribunal.

After talking with Mooney in San Quentin, Attorney George T. Davis said:

"The only statement at this time is with reference to the fact that the court itself waived Mooney's personal appearance."

Since Mooney or his attorneys, since the court has issued a writ of habeas corpus, which of itself requires the presence of the petitioner, there is no excuse for qualifying the writ by refusing him the right to be present at all hearings."

However, necessity for time to permit Mooney's eastern attorneys to arrive and prepare themselves probably will mean a continuance.

Should the state fail to show Mooney was not convicted on perjured testimony, the prisoner must be turned free.

If the state court holds it can not interfere, an appeal to the United States Supreme Court will be taken.

BRITISH-NAZI NAVAL TREATY IS ANNOUNCED

LONDON, June 18. (U.P.)—The British empire, seeing arms agreements crumpling throughout the world, today signed a far-reaching naval understanding with Germany granting the Reich a sea strength 35 per cent of the total tonnage of her own.

The accord would permit Reichsmarshal Adolf Hitler to construct a navy greater than that of Premier Benito Mussolini, in Italy, and approaching the size of the French Navy, a move which both these states bitterly resent.

TERMS TOLD
The terms, outlined in a "white paper," include:

1. Germany shall have a navy 35 to 100 with the British, or approximately 400,000 tons, figured on the present British strength.

2. The Reich shall have the right to possess submarine tonnage equal to the total submarine tonnage possessed by members of the British commonwealth of nations.

3. The Reich shall be permitted an increase of 50,000 tons over the 1,000,000 tons allowed under the treaty of Versailles, now crumpled.

RATIO IN SET
4. Germany pledges to adhere to the 35-to-100 ratio with Britain, regardless of the naval building programs of other sea powers. This ratio is to be "permanent" until revised in future.

5. The new ratio is to be based on a tonnage of 35,000 tons, the number of tons Britain has in submarines, or battleships, or cruisers, and so on, but may not concentrate on the one class, building 30 per cent in cruisers, for example, and spreading the rest over other types of craft.

PLAN CONFERENCE
6. A five per cent sliding scale is provided, permitting Germany to build up to 40 per cent in some categories.

The British "white paper" indicated a strong British determination to hold a five-power naval conference, as scheduled, during 1935, for consideration of general naval treaty revision.

all the damage and got all the blame. Now in Boston the situation has been reversed and it develops that a sober driver has run over a drunken pedestrian. Who is to blame?

The judge of the municipal court in Boston who heard the case says that the drinker is still to blame, and if not criminally guilty, at least the cause of the accident. And, moreover, the sober driver is entirely unblameless. He sizes it up as follows:

"If certain people insist upon filling themselves with liquor and staggering about the streets until they get killed, people who are driving the cars which hit them cannot be made safely held liable criminally merely because they drove the vehicle which caused fatal death."

Of course the jury is right. Some, we suspect, would be even more severe with the drinking pedestrian and slap him in jail for running into a defenseless and sober automobile.

RUTH'S SAD STORY
It is a matter of regret to the thousands of admirers of Babe Ruth throughout the country that the final chapter of the story of his career on the diamond and in the commercial side of baseball at his sorriest.

It is quite true that the Babe has been a stormy petrel of the national game. He has been temperamental and unstable and the rules of discipline, which have governed other players richly, have concerned him but little. He was the game's bad boy, but never ceased to be an engaging, fascinating figure.

He was more than this, however. He was a definite and positive asset with great commercial value because, although opinions may differ on the subject, he was probably the greatest player the game has ever known. Without him the Yankee stadium never would have been built.

But, when his day was done and his usefulness past, Ruth was turned adrift, only to be picked up by Boston to be exhibited around the country as a sort of stuffed memorial of himself, the hollow shell of a great player, from whom all of the powers of youth had departed.

Now he has been turned loose again and, if he persists in remaining in the game, even further sacrifices of prestige and of pride will be demanded of him. It is unfortunate that he is willing to submit to such indignities, that he does not realize that his days of usefulness on the diamond are at an end and govern himself accordingly.

The story of his career is a classic of its kind. It should not have ended with the pathetic episode staged in Boston, where disappointed club owners turned him loose with an unrestrained outburst of wrath and recrimination.

FORMER SOLON ASKS DIVORCE; TO WEB AGAIN

RENO, Nev., June 18. (U.P.)—J. Hayden Kuser, multimillionaire former New Jersey senator whose previous domestic troubles have been settled in Nevada, once again is seeking marital solace through an act of the local court.

This time he is expected to marry his stenographer, Mrs. Louise Barry, who is divorcing her husband here this week, if not tomorrow. During the past few weeks Kuser has been Mrs. Barry's constant companion.

Kuser, a resident of Bernardsville, N. J., is socially prominent in New York. His wife, Mrs. Vivian Fisher Banks Kuser, has filed suit for divorce from him in New Jersey.

The senator first came to the attention of the Nevada courts when he divorced in 1929 by Mrs. Brooke Russell Kuser, also socially prominent in New York. He settled upon her and their son, Anthony, now 10 years old, a handsome trust fund, $5,000 monthly allowance and $50,000 to buy a home.

That same year, the present Mrs. Kuser, then Mrs. Vivian Fisher Banks, obtained a default divorce here from James Lenox Banks, also socially prominent.

At that time, too, Kuser was Mrs. Banks' constant companion. The day after she obtained her divorce they were married at Virginia City, Nev. When she and Kuser returned to New York, Banks sued her charging adultery and bigamy. Mrs. Banks-Kuser then filed an amended divorce suit here and gave up custody of her three children to Banks.

When Kuser and Mrs. Barry were married, it was indicated, upon the speed of the New Jersey courts in granting Mrs. Kuser a divorce.

Richmond Sciots To Participate In Giant Ceremonial

Richmond Sciots will join the monster ceremonial to be held Saturday night (June 22) at the great Mason Plaza at Sunnyvale, when twelve pyramids from Southern California cities will send their uniformed units to initiate candidates into the mysteries of the order. In the first event of its kind ever to be held in the great air dome, approximately 700 novices are expected to be initiated.

A colorful pageant, "The Birth of Old Glory" will precede the initiation ceremonies. Saxons and dancers will participate in the chorus and spectacular ballroom military bands and costumed drill teams will compete in contests and maneuvers.

Judge Harry W. Polter, of Oakland, Pharaoh of the supreme pyramid of Sciots, and Commander Alfred T. Clay, U. S. N., of the Sunnyvale airbase are honorary chairmen. Lieutenant Commander Howard M. McKinley, U. S. N. R. is master of ceremonies, and Elmer Gauthier of San Francisco is general chairman. Entertainment is directed by Earl Eber, scribe of the supreme pyramid of Sciots. Judge George J. Steiner of San Francisco is chairman of the ritual.

Pyramids participating in the ceremonial include Sacramento, Stockton, Oakland, Vallejo, Berkeley, Alameda, Richmond, San Jose, San Mateo, San Francisco, Palo Alto, San Francisco.

'Murder' Mystery Quickly Solved
SANTA ROSA, June 18. (U.P.)—Sonoma county's "kidnap killer" turned out today to be a careless rubbish collector.

A bloody outfit of men's clothing, with two gashes in the back, was found alongside a road, the sheriff's office believed it was the trail of a sensational murder mystery.

Corner Frank Welti, shown the garments, identified them as the discarded clothing of a week end automobile crash victim. The garments had been given to a rubbish collector and apparently had fallen from his truck.

Clark Last Rites To Be Held Today
Funeral service for the late Mrs. Belle Clark, 69, of Pinole, will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon from the Wilson & Kratzer chapel, 1000 Broadway, with Rev. Glenn W. Butcher officiating. Interment will follow in Sunset View cemetery.

DOCK WORKERS IN FIGHT WITH POLICE FORCE

VANCOUVER, B. C., June 18. (U.P.)—First violence of the Marine Workers strike in Western Canada port occurred today when 4,000 strike men attempted to break through police lines on Ballantyne street.

Chief government dock, where strike breakers were employed.

Foot and mounted officers threw tear gas bombs and chased the rioters for several blocks to disperse them 10 minutes after they attempted to rush the wharf entrance.

Sporadic fighting occurred in alleys, yards and buildings nearby, before the rioting groups were broken up.

Approximately 200 policemen were used to break up the mobs. Several persons suffered minor injuries. A number of arrests were made.

The strike, in progress several weeks, heightened Monday night when dockhands and dock workers of the Union Steamship company joined the walkout.

Principal demands of the longshoremen call for wage increases and control of hiring halls.

Twins Brothers Given Sentence By Police Judge
SAN JOSE, June 18. (U.P.)—Herbert and Hugh Wayland, 39, twin brothers, gave local police a work out in identification today.

So great was their brotherly love that when Police Judge Percy O'Connor sentenced Herbert to two days in jail as a drunk and gave Hugh a suspended sentence as a vagrant, Hugh changed places with Herbert.

The brothers had been arrested while favoring passers-by with songs and salutations shouted from a gutter.

Police Captain John Guerin couldn't decide whether Hugh was Herbert, or vice versa when it came time to lock Herbert up.

"I'll fix that," he declared, herding both twins into a cell.

"But you can't do that," brother officers pointed out. "Hugh's sentence was suspended."

Guerin agreed. Tomorrow the twins will be fingerprinted and Hugh sent on his way. Tonight the twins joyfully questioned jailers as to when dinner would be served.

Teachers Named
Mrs. Thorma Kryzell was appointed by the board to fill the vacancy created by the death of Miss Helen Dozier, Grant school teacher. Miss Kryzell has been employed at the Danville schools and was principal of the San Ramon school. She is said to be an experienced educator who will be a valuable addition to the local schools.

A number of teachers were granted leaves of absence for a year's duration. They are: Miss Irene Carey, principal of the Lincoln school; Miss Esther Wolfe; Mrs. Winifred Healey, Mrs. Isabel Hedges, Miss Catherine C. Davidson and Mrs. Carol Kennedy.

The latter is a kindergarten teacher.

Substitutes Named
The board then named the following Richmond girls who will be selected to act as substitute teachers to fill these vacancies during the coming semester: Lorretta Lane, Betty Faris, Karin Peterson, Geraldine Clerk, Esther Palmberg (of El Cerrito) Wilda Eby and Elizabeth Poinsett (of Pinole). All of the above named are graduates of the Richmond schools and have done practice teaching in the local schools.

Contract Awarded
L. L. Page was awarded a contract by the board for the grading of the Harding school yard. Page presented a bid of 10 cents a cubic yard, or about $1200 for the work. Peres & Gatto were the only other bidder with an offer of 60 cents a cubic yard. The work will be started during the summer vacation period.

A representative of the Nyström School Dads' Club appeared before the board and asked that action be taken to remodel the school bus to make it safe. The board will take action on this matter.

guards caged at the opening of the air shaft.

They set fire to hay in a mule barn and a thick cloud of smoke poured out of the shaft. The guards donned gas masks and hurled tear gas bombs in retaliation.

FIRE STARTED
The fire started near the arsenal which the convicts attempted to storm a few hours before.

Deputy Warden A. J. Kraham authorized guards in the besieged gun cage to fire backshots if necessary to repel the strikers.

After the 330 prisoners were driven back in their first attempt to storm the stronghold they began throwing lumps of coal and rocks in an effort to extinguish electric lights in the cage. Apparently they hoped to charge the cage under cover of darkness.

Demanding better food and removal of Dr. David P. Parker, prison physician, the prisoners gave no indication of surrendering. Spokesmen for the convicts said they wanted Dr. Parker removed "because two men have died in the last two weeks following appendicitis operations."

The first convict to die, they said, was Tom Kelly, Wichita, Kan. His death two weeks ago was followed by that of George Lee, negro, who will be buried tomorrow.

Guards in the gun cage blocking the only path to the possible freedom, reported to prison officials they were confident they could hold the convicts at bay. They were O. M. Johnson, Fred Murray, John Christian and John Stewart.
